Project Introduction

Welcome to our project, which focuses on utilizing Python to analyze data—more especially, data from video games. The goal is to demonstrate how Python may be used to import, clean, and analyze real-world data in order to get insightful information.

- Objective of the Project: The objective of this project is to utilize Python for analyzing video games data to extract meaningful insights, identify patterns, and make data-driven decisions. This includes Exploratory Data Analysis (EDA), data cleaning & visualization to answer business questions effectively for decision-making.

Data Cleaning

- ☒ Drop useless columns.
- ☒ Check for Missing Values.
- ☒ Drop Missing Values.
- ☒ Fill Missing Values.
- ☒ Check for data types.
- ☒ Check for duplicates.

Notes

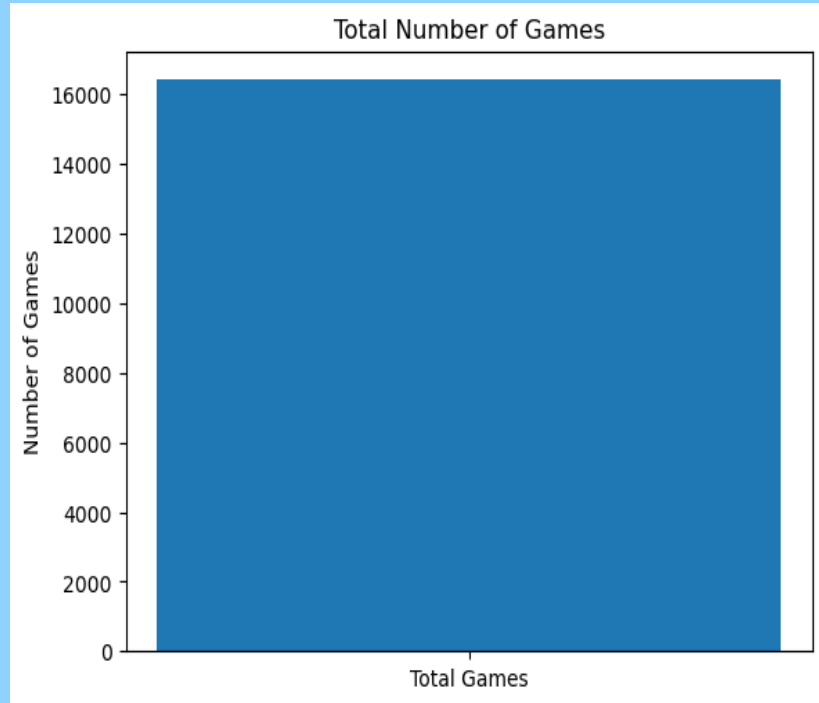

After each step, check for data accuracy.

After cleaning, We have 16,416 row & 13 column.

Recommendations

Focus on High- Performing Genres

The dataset indicates that certain genres, such as Action, Sports, Racing, and Role-Playing, have consistently high global sales. Future game development and marketing efforts should prioritize these genres to maximize revenue.

Target Strong Regional Markets

North America and Europe dominate sales figures. Expanding marketing campaigns and distribution in these regions could yield higher returns. However, Japan remains a key market for Role-Playing and Nintendo titles

Recommendations

Monitor Emerging Trends

The gaming industry rapidly evolves. Developers and publishers should continuously monitor shifts in consumer preferences, such as the rise of mobile gaming, cloud gaming, or VR/AR trends, to remain competitive.
